

Sergio Hernández de Deza

(Madrid, 1976)

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Board of Directors of Iberdrola Renovables Internacional, S.A.U.

Degree in Civil Engineering from Universidad Politécnica (Madrid) and Executive MBA from IE Business School. He also attended the International Business Program at the University of Berkeley (USA) and the Structured Finance & Private Equity Program of the Instituto de Empresa.

He is currently director of the international renewable division and CEO of Iberdrola Renovables Internacional, S.A.U.

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE FOR PERFORMING HIS DUTIES AT IBERDROLA RENOVABLES INTERNACIONAL, S.A.U.:

Energy Sector

He joined the Iberdrola Group in 2001, as a Civil Engineer at Iberdrola Ingeniería y Construcción. In 2003 he moved to Iberdrola Renovables, S.A. assuming different international technical and management responsibilities in Europe, Brazil, Mexico and USA where he lived while the start-up of the company's business in the country. In 2018 he assumed the lead of the international division to boost the growth of renewable energy onshore both wind and photovoltaic, in Europe and New Markets, such as Australia, South Africa and Asia among others.

OTHER INFORMATION

He began his professional career in the Division of Change Management at Accenture.

